

Lithuanian Army, Nazis Near Clash

FASCISTS WIN ELECTIONS FOR SEATS IN DIET

Citizens Insulted By Celebrating Nazis, Troops Claim

Kaunas, Lithuania, Dec. 12.—(AP)—The rising anger of Lithuanian soldiers caused fears tonight of an armed clash in Memel between the Lithuanian and Nazi troops celebrating their victory yesterday in Memel Diet elections.

Col. Andrius issued a statement that he would not be responsible for the conduct of his troops in Memel if the Nazis continued to insult Lithuanians.

Nazis saw the semi-autonomous territory, once a part of east Prussia, approaching reunion with the Reich as a result of the election, while Antanas Smetona began his fourth term as president of Lithuania with the troubled words: "We small countries must be careful."

Chief of State
Agitation in this but truculent Memel to go "back to the Reich" and trouble from his Rightist foes in Lithuania proper beset the all-Nationalist government of the parliament-born Smetona, who has been Lithuania's chief of state with only a brief interruption since the nation became independent after the war.

Lithuania has 55,670 square miles of which the Memel territory formerly a part of Germany comprises 1,099 square miles.

Without waiting to count the votes of Sunday's Memel Diet election which they were confident would give them all but two or three seats, the Memel Germans told the Lithuanian state police to leave the town.

Both Smetona and Memel's German "Fuehrer" Ernst Neumann, awaited word from Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler as to whether he wants to interfere.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the British House of Commons Monday that Britain and France had formally expressed the "hope" that Chancellor Hitler would not order Memel.

1924 Convention
France and Britain are sponsors of the 1924 convention which established Memel's autonomous status under Lithuanian sovereignty. Other signatories are Italy and Japan, friends of the Reich. Memel was detached from Germany by the treaty of Versailles.

In Berlin the German foreign office mouthpiece Deutsche Diplomatische Politische Korrespondenz said "how the Lithuanian government will set toward the new expression of the will of Memelland is essential for determination of future developments." It said there is no "traditional enmity" of Germans toward Lithuanians.

Word of Hitler's position was expected to be carried to Kaunas by the German minister, Dr. Erich Wilhelm Zechlin, who now is in Berlin.

In his address on taking the presidential oath, Smetona stressed his desire to cooperate with Germany in fulfillment of complete Memel autonomy, which now is limited by certain Lithuanian sovereign powers.

New Memel Diet
Just how far Berlin and Memel Nazis will go in their demands will become clear to Europe when the new Memel Diet, or Parliament, meets in January.

TROTSKY ON U. S.

New Deal "Palliative" for Disease, He Says

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Leon Trotsky, exiled Russian revolutionary, in an interview released here tonight, described the New Deal as not revolutionary but as "a program of mere palliatives seeking to cure a badly diseased body."

Trotsky, interviewed in his guarded villa near Mexico City by William R. Matthews, publisher of the Arizona Daily Star of Tucson, said the New Deal program "represents the culmination of the final contradictions in the decay and fall of capitalism."

"It will, of course, fail, because it is doing nothing to cure the causes of the disease," the one-time head of the Soviet war machine declared.

NAZIS WORKING ON SCHEME TO LIBERATE JEWS

Desire Coupling Of Emigration With Exports

Berlin, Dec. 12.—(AP)—The German government is working on a plan to get the Jews out of the country by coupling Jewish emigration with German exports, a high German source disclosed today.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, is scheduled to go to London soon, and while there, Boerse (stock exchange) circles said tonight, will be charged with the task of developing the plan concretely.

Dr. Schacht, it was said, will see foreign Jews in London with a view to working out a scheme along the lines of that envisioned here in Berlin. This, briefly, was described as follows:

Emigration Costs
One rich Jew and four poor ones would leave Germany as fast as enough German exports are sold abroad to yield foreign exchange to meet the costs of their emigration.

The wealthy Jew of each five would find some wealthy Jew abroad to lend him such sums as may be necessary for enabling him and his four colleagues to start life modestly in some other country, the informant said.

"We are willing," he continued, "to reimburse this foreign Jew, but obviously can do so only by furnishing made-in-Germany goods."

The emigrating Jew thus has it in his own hands to hasten the day of his departure from Germany if he can provide additional markets for German-made products.

The plan was disclosed coincidentally with intimation of a slight let-up shortly in severity of Nazi anti-Semitic measures.

Japanese Envoy To U. S. Makes Pledge

Seattle, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Confidence in American-Japanese "peace for generations to come," was expressed here today by Kenseku Horinouchi, newly appointed Japanese ambassador to the United States, on his arrival from the Orient.

He termed the two nations' trade "heaven-born." He said the principal commodities Japan sends the United States are not produced here, and the principal goods she receives from this country are not produced there.

Ambassador Horinouchi pledged himself to "do all in my power to establish a basis for permanent understanding between America and Japan."

WILL ATTAIN WHEAT EXPORT GOAL, CLAIMS

Washington, Dec. 12.—(AP)—F. R. Wilcox, in charge of the agriculture department's efforts to subsidize the export of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat this fiscal year, predicted today that the goal would be reached.

Just back from Europe after negotiating sales to British millers, Wilcox told reporters a 20,000,000-bushel transaction previously announced with them had been increased by 5,000,000 bushels in last minute negotiations aboard ship.

C. E. McNETT

Aurora, Ill., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Attorney C. E. McNett, 78, second oldest member of the Kane County and Aurora Bar Associations, died of pneumonia today. He was admitted to the bar in 1883. His widow, Mabel, survives. Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

500,000 WILL WORK AGAIN IF RAILS PROSPER

Railroad Equipment Needs Are Huge, Official Says

Washington, Dec. 12.—(AP)—The Senate profit-sharing committee heard testimony today that incentive taxation might help loosen tremendous backlog of railroad equipment purchases that would put 500,000 men to work in the heavy industries.

R. V. Fletcher, general counsel for the Association of American Railroads, said the carriers should spend $1,000,000,000 a year for the next ten years for modernization, replacement and repair.

Need 4 Billion
But before the railroads can do this, he added, they must squeeze about $4,000,000,000 out of their top-heavy capital structure.

The witness agreed with Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), committee member, that such progress could be made toward reducing class one railroads' $11,250,000,000 bonded debt if they bought these outstanding bonds at their present market value of about $7,250,000,000.

Fletcher suggested also that the railroads be excused from paying undistributed profits taxes on the money that they put into new equipment.

One Firm Controls Making of Bottles, Congressmen Hear

Monopoly Committee Given Testimony on Glass Container Industry

Washington, Dec. 12.—(AP)—The Monopoly committee received testimony today that a single company "dominates" the manufacture of glass containers—milk bottles, medicine bottles, fruit jars and beer and liquor bottles—with a control so tight that Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wy.) who charged it with regulating prices as well.

The company is the Hartford-Empire company of Hartford, Conn., whose imperious and elaborately courteous president, F. G. Smith, sat through a long day of rigorous questioning. It culminated in his declining to deny and yet refusing to acknowledge unqualifiedly that price control was within the power of the company.

The key to Hartford-Empire's conceded domination of the industry, it developed, was its ownership of patents on the machinery by which glass containers can be most economically produced. It also owns the machinery and leases it on a royalty basis to individual manufacturers. In leasing the machinery it stipulates what type of container each manufacturer may produce and, in a few cases, how much containers. And it can say whether or not a new manufacturer is to be admitted to the business.

James Roosevelt Is Examined at Clinic

Rochester, Minn., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Condition of James Roosevelt, the president's son, who returned here for a checkup following a gastric ulcer operation three months ago, is entirely satisfactory. Mayo Clinic physicians said late today.

After looking over the new vice president of a Hollywood movie firm, clinic physicians said "from a clinical standpoint the examinations were entirely satisfactory."

Young Roosevelt planned to leave by plane tomorrow afternoon for Chicago and Washington, where he will join other members of the president's family for the holiday season.

AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS TAKE ILLINOIS TESTS

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Some of the first automobile drivers in Illinois to take examinations for driver's licenses were tested today under supervision of state police.

Approximately 20 showed up for the test. No results were announced except in the case of a Peoria detective who had been ordered examined because state records erroneously showed he was blind in both eyes.

The detective, who is qualified as one of the best pistol shots in the police department, quickly proved his vision was normal in all respects and his record was cleared immediately.

Gaston Means, 'Mystery Man' Of Harding Era, Dies In Prison

Leaves Unsolved What Former Justice Department Agent Did With $104,000 He Accepted To Return Lindbergh Baby

Springfield, Mo., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Gaston B. Means, 59, "mystery man" of the Harding administration, died today in federal prison here, leaving unsolved the mystery FBI-men have tried to crack—what became of the $104,000 Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean gave him when he told her he could get the kidnapped Lindbergh baby returned alive.

Means, a justice department agent when Harding was president, said in 1932, before he was convicted and given a 15-year sentence for perjury, a hoax, he gave the money to three men during negotiations on a railroad bridge near Alexandria, Va.

Silence Unbroken
After his imprisonment, the once pudgy-faced detective did not talk about the case, although FBI-men tried at the U. S. medical center here to break his silence.

Today Means' widow, before leaving for his boyhood home in Concord, N. C., with the body, said she did not have "the slightest idea" where the money might be. She talked to her husband during his last hours of consciousness.

Mrs. Means said she is employed in Washington as a companion to elderly women and as caretaker of a baby.

Even before he approached Mrs. McLean, Means had served a sentence in the Atlanta penitentiary on charges of conspiring to profit by illegally diverting liquor into bootleg channels, and by attempting bribery in a government case.

Published Book
In 1928, after his release he published a book, later repudiated by the author, purporting to give the inside story of the Harding administration. Means claimed he was an "investigator extraordinary" during that administration and had been employed by Mrs. Harding to refuse scandalous charges flung at the president.

Before that, he figured in the news in 1917 when he was acquitted of a charge that he killed Mrs. Maude King, a wealthy widow for whom he had acted as attorney and financial adviser. He said she killed herself with a weapon she was using for target practice.

They are John L. Lewis, president; J. P. Murray, vice-president; and Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer. Eight delegates from the national membership will be elected to next year's CIO convention.

Edmundson said results of the Illinois vote will be announced Jan. 1. Those elected will begin their two-year terms April 1, 1939.

Edmundson's name will not be on the ballot. He is an appointee of the International board.

Creamery Butter Storage Mark Set

Chicago, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Stored creamery butter on Dec. 1 remained at a record level for the date despite trade withdrawals of 30,889,000 pounds and distribution of 4,544,000 pounds to relief clients, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today.

The nation's warehoused reserves of butter at the first of the month totaled 158,872,000 pounds, exceeding the previous December high of 1933 by 20,706,000 pounds.

Cold storage holdings of shell eggs were reported as 1,441,000 cases (43,330,000 dozens) or 1,274,000 cases less than the 1928-37 average. Freer holdings of canned eggs totaled 78,116,000 pounds, compared with 120,929,000 pounds a year ago and the five year average of 82,939,000.

STATION WILL

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 12.—(AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today authorized the University of Illinois radio station, WILL, to place its new 5,000 watt transmitter into operation. The new power will be used for the first time tomorrow.

University officials said the added power should increase the station's listening population to approximately 5,000,000 persons.

NEW CHICAGO SCHOOLS

Chicago, Dec. 12.—(AP)—President James B. McCarney of the Chicago Board of Education announced plans today for construction of 18 new schools or additions in 1939 at a cost of $6,710,000. He said the added classroom space would accommodate 11,000 more children. Enrollment now totals 453,000.

"Quite interesting," or "impressive," he remarked today and again.

When the inspection party barged into the typical 3-room Williamsburg apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rudman and their 3-year-old daughter, Eden apologized for "tramping in here with muddy boots and disturbing these people."

Later Eden spent an hour at the Metropolitan Museum of Art before visiting in his hotel suite with a group from the Foreign Policy association.

He planned to entrain for Washington Tuesday at 12:50 a. m. to visit with President Roosevelt.

SHOOTING STORY TOLD IN COURT BY RUTH ETTING

Former Husband Of
The Singer, Martin
Snyder, On Trial

Los Angeles, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Ruth Etting testified today Martin Snyder, her husband for 17 years "told us this was the end of all three of us" just before Myrl Alderman was wounded at his North Hollywood home last Oct. 15.

The singer said Snyder meant her, Alderman and Snyder's daughter, Edith.

Miss Etting said she and Miss Snyder had gone to the home of Alderman, whom she said she planned to marry as soon as his divorce became final, and were preparing dinner when Alderman's car drove up.

Two Men Come In
Alderman came in the kitchen door, followed by Snyder, who was poking him in the back with a pistol, partly covered by a handkerchief. Miss Etting said.

"Snyder cursed and told us he had us where he wanted us," she testified. "Waving the pistol, he forced us all into the music room and told us this was the end of all three of us."

Miss Etting said she pleaded with Snyder and that Alderman started to talk, but just then Snyder fired twice.

In his opening statement to the jury Jerry Giesler, defense lawyer said he would prove Snyder had not planned to harm the women. He said also he would prove Alderman was not kidnapped but went willingly to his home.

Administration Gives Consideration To Trade Loans

Washington, Dec. 12.—(AP)—The idea of lending Latin America cash out of the U. S. treasury with which to buy more goods from this country is being given consideration here.

This disclosure, made today by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, demonstrated how seriously the administration is courting Latin America in view of economic inroads made in that quarter of the world by totalitarianism from overseas.

Greater Solidarity
Morgenthau told reporters he was seeking means of greater commercial solidarity in the western hemisphere while Secretary of State Hull at the Pan-American conference in Lima, Peru, is seeking a common front against military and political aggressors.

Hull, the treasury head, addressed complete knowledge of his commercial studies and approves them.

Not since the first few years after the World War has Congress permitted treasury money to be lent to a foreign government. All those loans were made in Europe and all of them are in default except the small one to Finland. Those countries cannot even borrow from private investors in this country because of the Johnson act.

N. Y. Meat Workers Ask "Lenten" Meals

New York, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Meat workers striking against major packing companies today proposed an off-season "Lenten" observance with meatless meals.

They planned to address such a plea to housewives in efforts to encourage demands for salary increases, a 40-hour week, union recognition and other concessions.

Although deliveries were made without trouble from 60 picketed plants, some under police guard, Markets Commissioner William Felton Morgan, Jr., foresaw a price rise in the event the strike continued.

Chesterton died June 14, 1936, at the age of 62.

LIVES TO SMILE "Falls" 16 Floors in Elevator Shaft

New York, Dec. 12.—(AP)—A man stepped into an open elevator shaft on the 17th floor of a midtown hotel today and lived to smile and smoke a cigarette as an ambulance surgeon raised his serious injuries.

Dr. Constantine Konstan, 29, of E. 41st St., W. Va., saved himself by gripping the cable, despite excruciating pain, and with his hand "braking" his fall to the second floor, where he struck the top of the elevator.

Talking with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Michael Manos, as they walked down the corridor, he did not notice the shaft was empty. Mrs. Manos narrowly escaped following him.

Dr. Konstan suffered a double fracture of the left leg, possible internal injuries and badly burned hands. Hotel officials could offer no explanation of the open door.

BRAZILIAN WILL HEAD STUDY OF PEACE TREATIES

Eighth Pan-American Conference Ready For Projects

Lima, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Executive committee of the eighth Pan-American conference cleared the decks today for swift consideration of important projects for consolidation of the western hemisphere.

Alfonso de Melo Franco, former foreign minister of Brazil, was chosen chairman of the committee for the organization of peace which will discuss continental defense and unification of existing peace treaties.

Delegates placed much significance in the choice of the Brazilian since his country is one of the foremost of the American republics favoring strong organization of the western hemisphere against outside aggression.

With Melo Franco presiding, the chances for reaching a strong resolution or possibly an agreement for continental defense were believed appreciably improved. The Brazilian did not want the chairmanship but accepted on the insistence of central American nations and Peru and Colombia.

Delegates said this meeting should be the most business-like Pan-American conference yet held, owing to the determination of delegates to conclude everything by Dec. 23 and possibly even by Dec. 20.

All M. Landon, former governor of Kansas and 1936 Republican presidential candidate, is the chief United States representative on the committee for organization of peace.

Two weeks later members of the crew on the Cuba who still favored AFL affiliation refused to sail with those who had joined the CIO, and a new strike resulted. Crews of both the Florida and the Cuba were discharged and the AFL union, under its contract, supplied new crews.

The circuit court decided that the seizing of the ships by sit-down strikers was "at least prima facie evidence" that the crews were guilty of mutiny.

The AFL contended the circuit court's decision should be allowed to stand. It argued the labor board order "declined to give effect to an existing contract."

In its only formal decision today, the high court ruled that the University of Missouri should admit Lloyd Gaines, a Negro, to its school of law. (Gaines Has No Comment)

In Lansing, Mich., where he is employed on a WPA-sponsored survey, Gaines declined to say whether he would enter the school, which previously had refused to admit him.

Chief Justice Hughes wrote the majority opinion. Justices McReynolds and Butler dissented.

Missouri provides separate schools for negroes, including Lincoln university at Jefferson City. In addition, it provides for payment of tuition at schools in adjacent states for negroes who wish to study subjects provided at schools for whites but not at the negro institution.

The Missouri Supreme court upheld a ruling that the scholarship provisions was adequate.

Brushing aside, as beside the point, Missouri's scholarship arrangement and provision for establishment of a law school at Lincoln university when the curators deemed it necessary, Hughes said the state "was bound to furnish him (Gaines) within its borders facilities for legal education substantially equal to those which the state there afforded for persons of white race, whether or not negroes sought the same opportunity."

FREDERICK INGALLS

Montevideo, Calif., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Frederick A. Ingalls, 82, prominent for many years in Chicago industrial circles, died at his Pebble Beach home today. He formerly was president of the Buda Foundry and Manufacturing company and the Ingall Shapers Forging company.

Make Use Of Seals

"You have done only half the job when you buy tuberculosis Christmas Seals. To complete it you should use the seals and use them early," a warning to a statement received Monday from W. P. Shahan, Executive Secretary of the Illinois Tuberculosis Association.

The statement points out that "the Christmas Seal in itself is a means of education. In the minds of the public it has come to be identified with tuberculosis. Any one receiving mail to which is affixed the seal with the red double-barrel cross immediately has his attention focused on this disease. Therefore, the wider the use of the seals, the more effectively will the campaign attain its purpose of eradicating tuberculosis."

"This year, especially, the design of the Christmas Seal is unusually attractive. The mother and her two children in the charming costumes of the Victorian are, the candle-lighting ceremony and the double-barred cross of the tuberculosis movement combines admirably to make a charming bit of decoration for any card or package. And, certainly, they carry to humanly Christmas greetings of the highest possible significance.

"Any campaign that has its purpose the prevention of tuberculosis should have the backing of every person in the land. A visible evidence of this backing is the appearance of Christmas Seals or cards, letters and packages throughout the country."

"The dramatic accomplishments in the fight against the disease are largely due to the fact that the Christmas Seal focuses at least for several weeks out of the year the attention of all citizens on tuberculosis. Today, every child has five times as good a chance of escaping the dread disease as he had thirty years ago. Slowly, but surely, tuberculosis is being pushed back as our defenses increase against it. Only by continued and persistent efforts can the ground gained be maintained, and further advance made. The Christmas Seal makes this possible."

"It is a simple act to stick a Christmas Seal on the back of a letter or on a package. But this act repeated by millions of people, young and old, in large cities and in country villages means that the campaign to protect all homes from tuberculosis is going forward," Shahan concluded.

Fear Makes Them Mute

Two firsthand accounts of the Nazi Jewish programs, one by a refugee editor arrived in New York and another cabled to a Cleveland paper by an American observer, bear out the assertion that the masses of German people are out of sympathy with the persecution of Jews and others.

Leo Wernd, former editor of the anti-Nazi Neufreie Presse in Vienna told New York reporters how he was saved from execution in a concentration camp by a German official who substituted another name for his on the death list. His benefactor was a friend of World War days, a war incidentally in which Wernd won the title of baron fighting Germany's enemies.

Thomas B. Grandin of Cleveland, writer and lecturer who witnessed the anti-Jewish horrors in Germany, writes that "perhaps 80 per cent of the population feels with the rest of the world a deep sense of horror at what has recently happened. Many Germans formerly anti-Semitic now sympathize with the Jews."

To express that sympathy, however, by so much as a word or gesture is to invite almost certain reprisal by Nazi officialdom with the refined tortures of the concentration camp as punishment.

A Prince Gets The Boot

Shed a tear for poor Prince Alexis Obolensky. He has been kicked out of the Russian Nobility Association, an organization which includes the highest members of the Russian nobility in the United States, because he played the part of a Soviet commissar in the musical comedy "Leave It to Me."

Is that anyway to treat a prince, especially around Christmas time—just because he tried to earn an honest penny?

And so the surviving members of the old Russian court that fled before the "red terror" are still going through their comic opera paces—still playing at dukes and duchesses.

The remains of Sherman V. Coultas, 37, who was serving as state fire marshal at the time of his untimely death Friday of gunshot wounds, were laid to rest Sunday afternoon in the Diamond Grove cemetery as a gathering of about 1,500 people stood with bared heads to watch the commitment ceremony of the Knights Templar, of which the late fire marshal was a member.

The graveside rites followed funeral services held in the Central Christian church where about 2,500 people gathered to pay their respects and to hear Dr. M. L. Pontius, pastor of the church, declare that the former fire marshal was not afraid to die.

Heads of departments of the state government, heads of fire underwriting and investigation boards, employees of state departments, members of bar associations, members of congress and the state legislature gathered with local friends in the church, filling it a half hour before the service began and overflowing into the street.

Delivering the funeral oration, Dr. Pontius declared that he was not disturbed when people came to him with troubles involving the loss of money, loss of position, or loss of health, but that he was disturbed when people came to him in sorrow and told him that they had lost faith in themselves, their fellowmen, in God, and in Christ.

"This family has not lost its faith," he said. "When I accompanied the wife of the departed to see her beloved, she said, 'He was not afraid to die! That is an example of triumphant, victorious Christian faith.'"

Moved to Serious Thoughts
Such occasions as this, he said, move persons to more serious thoughts of life and death, and to take inventory of the spiritual resources, which until death comes, people have been unconcerned about. They begin then to think of immortality.

There is an instinct in human beings which causes them to feel there is an immortality when brought face to face with death. Many people create their own philosophy or attempt to deny the instinct, but when death comes, their better selves predominate and they accept the instinct of the after-life. The instinct in itself is proof of immortality, he said, were there no other proofs available.

"Sherman's life was incomplete. He died in the early forenoon of his existence, and if there is no future life, then there is no eternal justice," Dr. Pontius said. He said that the influence of that immortality of Sherman's life would continue for many years, that his family would feel it and that his children would respond to it.

"Character is the only thing you can take away with you," Dr. Pontius continued, and in the departed he said there was character and integrity, characteristics which he bequeathed to his family. He related that a few days ago the late fire marshal made arrangements for him to speak before a local club, remarking that as the Christmas tide neared, the club members felt that he should think seriously for a time.

SERIAL STORY SKI'S THE LIMIT BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

CAST OF CHARACTERS
SALLY BLAIR—heroine. She had everything that popularity could wish for, except...
DAN REYNOLDS—hero. He might have had Sally but while he was king on skis...
COREY PORTER was king of the social whirl. So... But go on with the story.

CHAPTER I
THERE was really no doubt as to who would be chosen Queen of the Ice Carnival. All bets were on Sally Blair. Sally was the prettiest, the most popular girl to be invited to the winter festival. Sally, herself, would have been more surprised if she had not been chosen than she was when the committee informed her she had been.

"As if anyone else could be Queen!" Corey Porter said with smug gratification. For Sally was Corey's girl. For the next few days...

Illustration by Henry C. Schlensker. They were standing breathless, watching a dark figure poised high above their heads.

They made a handsome couple, Sally and Corey, swinging along, hand in hand, toward the practice hill where contestants would be getting in trim for the big meet the next day. Sally was as small and dark and sparkling as Corey was big and smooth and fair. More than one head turned to look at them, more than one remark signaled them out. "There goes Corey Porter, senior president, swell guy!" and "That's Sally Blair. She was voted the most popular girl in her school and now she's to be Queen of the carnival!"

"Remember," Corey said, "you're my girl this week-end, Sally. Anyone who tried to break that up had just better watch his neck!" His look was so fierce, so possessive that Sally laughed.

"I guess no one will dare try," she said. "That is if he values his neck." But she knew that Corey would find plenty of competition. Wherever she went Sally always held court.

ROUNDING the bend they came upon a dazzlingly beautiful sight, wind-rippled snow, sparkling with myriad tiny diamonds, dark sentinels of pines marching up the mountain sides, a blue, blue sky spread like a canopy overhead, and crowds and crowds of brightly-costumed people.

"Isn't it lovely?" Sally exclaimed, and then, "Oh, Corey—look at that!" She caught his arm, standing breathless, watching a dark figure poised high above their heads, a figure that voraged now with one swift graceful forward movement, poised for the gelandec movement, or jump, rose like a bird silhouetted against the sky, then skimming down the trail of the slick steep slope, a cloud of snow like silvery smoke billowing behind, to come to a smooth, perfect stop with an elaborately executed "Christie."

"That was worth looking at," Corey admitted. "Perfect co-ordination and judgment, marvelous tempo and control."

"Who is he?" Sally demanded, still wide-eyed and breathless. Never had she seen anything to equal that performance in sheer grace and beauty.

He, alone, had not raised his voice in welcome.

"Isn't someone going to introduce us?" Sally inquired. Her smile was just for him now. The Queen signaling out a humble subject, bestowing a special favor. She would show Corey that he was mistaken. Sally had yet to meet the young man who would not

COREY PORTER was king of the social whirl. So... But go on with the story.

CHAPTER II
THE Ski-Rest, perched high like a crow's nest on top of the mountain, was packed with red-cheeked, bright-eyed youngsters dressed in sweaters and knickers and snow suits, woolly mittens and heavy boots. A big fire roared at each end of the long, log room in the huge stone fireplace. The smell of smoke and wax mingled with the more tantalizing fragrance of coffee and hamburgers. The record machine sang out one gay dance tune after another in rapid succession challenging the chaff and chatter that rose all around. Outside the thermometer registered fifteen below and there was a bitter wind, but within was warmth and coziness and laughter.

"How come you're not entering any of the women's events, Sally?" Babe Fairchild, a plump, doll-faced blond who had been named suited perfectly, asked the question that all of the "gang" had been hesitating to put. "Everyone thought, as Queen of the Carnival, you'd put the rest of us gals in our places on skis and skates."

"Why should you think that?" Sally asked. Her dark eyes, beneath long curling lashes, were searching covertly for one particular person among all the close-knit groups. "I'm not that good. Not nearly good enough, in fact." She had her reasons, but she did not mean to divulge them.

"Maybe Sally's satisfied just to be Queen this year," Pudge remarked, coming gallantly to her rescue. Sally might not be able to see him for dark, which was no small wonder with Corey paying her such open homage, but Pudge wouldn't give up hope until the last gun. "What'd you mean not-good-enough? You're plenty super when it comes to any sport, my love."

"Don't you wish she were your love?" Corey taunted, winking broadly. He pulled his chair a bit closer to Sally's, bent his far head nearer, her dark eyes were for your thoughts," he murmured, just for Sally's ears. "Why don't you keep your mind on your work—which is me—why this life-is-real, life-is-earnest attitude, my sweet?"

SALLY'S eyes smiled back into his. "They're worth more than that!" she informed him loftily, adding quickly, "How about showing me a bit of shagging?" For Corey prided himself on knowing all the newest, most intricate dance steps. Besides, Sally knew she never was expected to be quiet or serious. That was part of the price paid for maintaining the status of popularity.

"You're a wow for punishment," Corey said with grudging admiration, pulling himself to his feet. "After the strenuous hours we've put in these last two days and nights, and if anyone questions the strenuousness just let him look how my poor knees are beginning to cave in." He took a circle around the table, making his knees wobble comically, turning his feet on edge, bringing a laugh from everyone at his clowning. Then he whirled Sally out onto the tony square of polished floor in a dizzy, wild tango that caused the few other couples to shy into corners to watch the exhibition. For among all her other accomplishments, Sally was the slickest dancing partner any fellow ever had.

Illustration by Henry C. Schlensker. "Corey must be asking you if you'll give me a lesson in skiing tomorrow morning," Sally put in.

"Just what is the big idea?" Corey asked, after the applause had died down and they had taken a breathless back toward their table again. "Why aren't you entering the women's events, Sally?" He had expected Sally to come off with top honors, as she had last year. Incidentally, as his girl, he felt she owed it to him. Just as now he felt she owed him an explanation for not entering.

"I told you. I'm not good enough," Sally answered lightly. The color in her cheeks deepened, her heartbeat quickened. Not because she still was breathless from the dance, but because—at last—her bright roving glance had been rewarded. In a far corner, all by himself, his attention completely absorbed in the task of waxing his skis with infinite patience and loving care, sat the person she had been searching for. Apparently he had not even taken time out to observe Sally and Corey's exhibition. Apparently he did not know they were on earth.

"This way!" Sally tugged at Corey's sweater sleeve. She gave him a knowing look. "Remember our 'check' Corey? Be a good boy and keep quiet. And watch the fun."

SHE walked straight over to that corner. Corey following, his handsome face a bit puzzled, a bit sulky.

"Greetings!" Sally said in her calm, clear voice. She tossed back her dark curls; her eyes held their bright, dangerous look. "We know we're interrupting. A thousand pardons for that. But Corey wants to ask a favor, as one brother to another. Isn't that right, Corey, my lad?" She threw him a laughing look that bound him in intimate understanding.

Corey prided himself on being a good sport. She knew she could rely on him not to let her down. Dan looked up reluctantly, running one hand absently, in a sort of caress, down the smoothly-polished ski. He said, "Hello," none too cordially. His eyes—Sally had taken note before

Four Autos Damaged In Morning Crash

Driver Bumps Two Cars, Hits Light Post at Church and State Streets

Four automobiles were damaged, none of them badly, Monday morning when a machine driven by H. G. Duncan bumped into a car driven by

W. M. Beekman and then into a car owned by Henry Detmer of Chaplin at the corner of State and Church streets, before coming to a stop after breaking off a light post and striking the memorial rock near the Grace M. E. church.

Mr. Beekman's car struck a machine owned by H. J. Rodgers, which was parked near the corner, as a result of the collision.

Neither Mr. Duncan nor Mr. Beekman were injured. Mr. Beekman said he had just pulled away from the curb when he was struck by the Duncan machine.

commanding officer of Camp Jacksonville, left on an emergency leave last Saturday. His father was stricken by paralysis while hunting in northern Wisconsin. The hunting lodge where he was visiting is located over a hundred miles from the nearest telephone, thus making it difficult to call a doctor. Last Sunday Mr. Bingham, Sr., passed away from the stroke. The entire company has extended its sympathy to Lieut. Bingham and family for his bereavement.

When Enrollee Woodrow Wilson Bundy died, members of Co. 5445 and the residents in the vicinity of McArthur, Calif., headed the list of mourners. At the same time, the following item appeared in the paper of Camp Waimea on the island of Hawaii, T. H. 2400 miles across the Pacific: "Unknown and yet known, being brothers as our uniforms signify, we the members of Camp Waimea offer our deepest sympathy to the parents, relatives, and CCC buddies of the late Woodrow Wilson Bundy. 'Aloha Bundy.' This is just one case where the saying goes, 'All for one, one for all.'"

One of the biggest meals ever consumed in the history of Camp Jacksonville magically vanished before the eyes of the cooks and K.P.s last Thanksgiving day. The hungry enrollees consumed the following dinner: 171 pounds of turkey, 100 pounds of potatoes, 40 pounds of bread, 35 pounds of candy, 30 large pumpkin pies, 50 pounds of bananas, 50 pounds of oranges and apples, plus other good things to eat. To top off the big Thanksgiving dinner, the enrollees smoked ten cartons of cigarettes. When the enrollees were asked if the dinner was satisfactory, the boys answered with a loud "Yes, sir."

Enrollee Percy Godier, barrack and field leader, came to camp determined to improve his education. Last week he was graduated from the eighth grade or equivalent thereof, and is now planning to continue his studies. Twenty-four other members of camp are studying four elementary subjects four nights per week in two fifty-minute periods per night.

Since November many changes have been made in the enrollee personnel. Herbert Schneider was transferred to Company 698, Argyle, Wis.; Thomas Trowbridge was transferred to Company 612 located in Willowsprings, Ill.; Clancy, Fruit, Hardy, and Foster were transferred back to their old company in Elmwood, Ill. Enrollee James Tucker was sent to the station hospital in St. Louis last week to have a tooth root extracted and will return at the latter part of next week. Enrollee Tucker lives in Jacksonville. James Kirk Davis returned from the station hospital last Friday morning.

Pro and Con Personals
Archie Mitchell claims that his aunt is Margaret Mitchell, the author of "Gone With the Wind." Twenty young ladies from MacMurray college paid a class visit to Camp Jacksonville last Tuesday morning. The young ladies left with the impression that Camp Jacksonville is one of the best CCC camps in the middle west, as Major Bowes recently stated over the radio. Paul Warock has his own amateur broadcasting station at his home in Jacksonville. He may be heard talking to his dad every morning at 11:30. Two enrollees were transferred into this company recently. The enrollees are Daniel Warren from Company 698, Argyle, Wis., and Newman Sanofer from Company 612, Willowsprings, Ill. Enrollee Sanofer resides in Meredosia, Ill.

Christmas leaves will begin Dec. 21. Only half of the company will be permitted to go home for the Christmas holidays due to the fact that at least half of the company must be in camp at all times. The enrollees who do not go home for Christmas will have a five-day leave for New Year's. Five days are granted for the Christmas leave.

Famous last words in camp: "Me homesick? No, sir, I am going home for Christmas because my parents begged me to come."

Blueboy Quintet Will Meet Westminster College Tonight

Charley Johnson Is Elected Captain Of Jacksonville Quint

Charley Johnson, veteran guard, was elected captain of the Jacksonville high school basketball team last night after the regular practice session at David Prince gymnasium.

The new captain, starting his fourth year of high school play, and in his fourth year of school, has also starred in football and track.

The Crimson play two contests this week, meeting the Carrollton high school on the local boards Wednesday evening and traveling Beardsdown for their first conference game this Friday.

Change in Line

Coach Frank Wolfe of the J. H. S. squad announced yesterday that for the game Wednesday, the line would be slightly changed. The first of the Crimson's trio of centers will be at 6:30 when the David Prince team under the coaching of John Agger of the high school faculty will take on a group of last year's D. P. squad now Freshmen in J. H. S.

Coach Richard Welts of the Crimson Freshman-Sophomore team will hold the line from 7:30 to 8:30 when they cross with the invading Carrollton reserve five. The main event, between the local varsity and the Carrollton high school, will start at 8:30. The change in time will be only for tomorrow's game.

Wacker explained that the reason for the shift is to accommodate several of the varsity squad who were on the football eleven. The Kiwanis Club is feeding the J. H. S. basketball squad at a special banquet tomorrow at 6:00 for their work during the recent season. Wacker moved the line schedule up a half notch in order to give two hours between eating and playing time.

One-armed Boy Gets Honor on All-State H.S. Football Team

Eldon Wernle, Jacksonville Guard, Makes Third Team Named by R. Wolfe

By ROCKY WOLFE

(City News Bureau of Chicago)

The roster of the seventeenth annual All-State high school football players is unique in that it includes a courageous youth who refused to allow the terrific handicap of possessing only one arm keep him out of the game.

His name is Joe Popiawski. He completed his fourth season as a tackle at University High, Normal. He is accorded honorable mention since the roster lists only one arm and others are collaborating at sixteen years ago to select the state's best.

Joe lost his right arm when four years old due to an accident that necessitated amputation. In addition to his spectacular defensive play on the gridiron, he won his letter in baseball as an outfielder and hopes to win one this season as a catcher. His ambition is to play college football then become a coaching career.

The consensus regarding the first eleven was such that it was comparatively easy to arrive at conclusions. It is a big fast bunch and experienced, only two having played less than three years and five having completed four campaigns.

Nick Burke, great 192-pound Lane Tech linebacker, was versatile and while used mostly last season as tackle, he is placed on the No. 1 array at the pivot post without an argument.

Flanking him are Fred Michaels of Oak Park, suburban league champion, whose play contributed much to his team's success in a tough loop and Manly Graffund of Moline, who likewise was a potent factor in aiding the Maroons to their fourth consecutive Northwest Conference title. The former scales at 185 and the latter at 182 pounds.

The tackles, Ralph Zilly of East High, Aurora, champion of the Big Seven, and Bob Wilson of Champaign, which won the Big Twelve honors, were widely acclaimed. Weighing 194 pounds, Wilson was unusually fast, did the punting and tossed forward passes. The remark of a collaborator, of a city other than Aurora, that, "to not name Zilly would be tantamount to a mark football," comes offers some idea of the esteem in which Ralph was held.

Charles "Bud" Gerwig, of Bellevue, a powerful team, and Chris Pavich of Spaulding Institute, Peoria, another strong outfit, are unanimous as ends. Bud, who stands six feet, two inches and who weighs 190, could play any line position with unusual skill and the 176-pound Pavich, in addition to being "first cabin" in all wing duties, was an exceptionally fine blocker.

The backfield—Stanley Stasica, Rockford; Andy Yourkovich, Mt. Olive; Louis Butkovich, Canton, and Don Griffin, Peoria, Chicago, is classical. Each does everything. The 180-pound Griffin, playing his first varsity season, made Peoria the All-Chicago champion. He is the youngest, being 16. Last year he played on the sophomore squad.

Butkovich, heavyweight of the mythical four at 199 pounds, used every ounce of it with devastating effect; Yourkovich, named on the No. 3 team last year, led Mt. Olive to its third undefeated season in the South Central circuit, and Stasica, the lightweight at 158 pounds, gleaned widespread fame by his brilliant performances.

Cornell University is in possession of an author's copy of the song "Dixie." The original song copy was stolen from the composer and the presented copy made later.

Boilermakers Make Cage Debut Tonight

Chicago, Dec. 12.—Purdue Boilermakers, last Big Ten basketball team to tip its hand, make their cage debut tonight against Monmouth (Ill.) College and play two more games later in the week.

The Monmouth game and contest with the University of Detroit Wednesday and DePaul University Saturday should give other conference outfit a definite line on the strength of Purdue, last year's champions.

Purdue's veteran coach, Ward Lambert, must find replacements for three of last year's stars—Jewell Young brilliant forward; Johnny Sines, one of the loop's top scorers and little Pat Malaska, guard.

This week's program Monday—Monmouth at Purdue; Washington U. at Iowa, Wabash at Indiana; Wednesday—Detroit at Purdue; Thursday—Michigan at Notre Dame; Friday—Amor at Chicago; Saturday—Rockford at Chicago; North Dakota at Illinois; Marquette at Wisconsin; Northwestern at St. John's at New York; DePaul at Purdue; Iowa vs. Butler at Indianapolis; Cleveland at Minnesota and Connecticut State at Indiana.

Food was bootlegged in Soviet Russia during the famine of 1929-30, when the government forbade peasants to sell food in the cities.

Takes Honor Second Time in Succession; Others Noted

New York, Dec. 12.—P.—For the second year in succession, Don Budge is ranked as the nation's No. 1 athlete. The lanky California red-head, who negotiated an unprecedented tennis sweep in winning the Australian, French, British and American titles in one year before electing to cast his lot with the professionals, was named as the No. 3 athlete for 1938 by 26 of the 63 sports experts who participated in the Associated Press' eighth annual poll.

In sharp contrast, however, to his run-away triumph last year, Budge was hard-pressed this time by Henry Armstrong, great negro fighter, who set up a new all-time boxing record by holding the featherweight, lightweight and welterweight championships at the same time.

Armstrong, drawing 19 first-place votes, wound up only 18 points behind the tennis ace in the final tabulation, based on three points for first choice, two points and one for third. Budge's total was 122 points; Armstrong's 104.

It was strictly a two-man race Johnny Vander Meer, Cincinnati Reds' southpaw who pitched two successive no-hit, no-run games, polled only 37 points to finish in third place. Football provided the fourth place winner in little Davey O'Brien, Texas Christian's quarterback, Marshall Goldberg of Pittsburgh was the only other footballer mentioned in the poll.

Baseball led all other sports in the number of nominees, and golf ranked second.

Petersburg Tourney Draws Teams Out of District This Week

But There's Plenty of Action Booked in Valley, Pike And Central Loops

Petersburg's annual invitational tournament this week will take Franklin and Waverly out of Morgan county activity this week, but there is plenty of action booked for the week in the Illinois Valley twin circuits, the Pike county league, and the Central conference, while the Morgan county league is at a standstill.

Waverly is rated as one of the top teams in the ten enrolled for the four day joust which opens Wednesday night. Tallula and Franklin meet in the opening game. Greenview and Riverton in the second tilt, and Petersburg and Kiboune in the nightcap Wednesday. Manito and San Jose open the Thursday card, with Waverly meeting the winner of the first game of the tournament, and Forest City the winner of the second game.

Winners Thursday night come back Friday night for the semi-finals, and the championship and third place games will be played Saturday night.

While all that is going on, Illinois Valley and Pike county teams hope to make a little progress toward determining a champion. While I.S.D. is at White Hall tonight, for a non-conference game, Bluffs and Griggsdale will be entering on their conference season at Bluffs. Friday night Rodhouse goes to Greenfield for its first league test, and Pittsfield pays its visit to the Wildcat den at Winchester where Griggsdale met a conference set-back in its opener. Jerseyville plays its first league game at Rodhouse Saturday night.

Barry bobs up as Pittsfield's opposition in a Pike county game Wednesday, but there will be a lot of interest in the outcome of the Milton-Nebo game the same evening at Nebo. The Pirates haven't been defeated in the league this year and its small home court has been a jinx to a lot of teams.

The schedule for the week includes the following games:

Tuesday
Lafayette at Beardstown.
I.S.D. at White Hall.
Crest at Bloomington.
Bluffs at Griggsdale.
Arlington at Virginia.
Chandeville at Champaign.
Bath at Altonville.
Bavaria at Peoria.

Palmyra at Modesto.

Wednesday
Carrollton at J.H.S.
Cathedral Springfield, at Routt.
Barry at Pittsfield.
Milton at Nebo.
Stoughton at Palmyra.
Greenfield at Rockbridge.

Thursday
Palmyra at I.S.D.
Friday
Jacksonville at Beardstown.
Chandeville at Routt.
Woodson at Mercedosa.
White Hall at Murrayville.
Chapin at Modesto.
New Berlin at Athens.
Rodhouse at Greenfield.
Kane at Carrollton.
Pittsfield at Winchester.
Perry at Barry.
New Canton at Hull.
Ashland at Bath.
Mt. Sterling at Versailles.
Pleasant Plains at Virginia.
Alsey at Eldred.

Saturday

Christmas baskets: The J.H.S. Tri-Y and Hi-Y clubs are cooperating this year in conducting a drive for Christmas baskets. In past years the annual effort has been under the supervision of the Student Council (now extinct) or directly through the home room groups.

However, this year the two clubs have accepted responsibility for the cause and expect to start their campaign soon. The soliciting of food or cash will probably be again through the home rooms, with the members of the clubs cooperating in portioning the results into market baskets.

Several new features have been planned for the distribution of the baskets, however. On the evening of the last day of classes preceding the holidays the members of the clubs will "go caroling," delivering the baskets as a group and singing Christmas favorites.

Gratia Hall, president of the Tri-Y, together with Mary Jo Brown and the faculty adviser of the group, Miss Mabel Ruyle, represent the girls' organization for making the initial arrangements. Leonard Staff, president of the Hi-Y club together with Vernon Moore, faculty adviser, A. D. Hermann, local "Y" secretary, and several other members of the boys' group make up the other part of the committee.

Work on the editing and publishing of the J.H.S. yearbook, "The Crimson J for 1939" is progressing rapidly under the guidance of Miss Irene Groves, senior class dean.

Nearly all of the organization group pictures have been taken and sent to the engraver along with football, class and faculty "shots". A large portion of credit for the progress is due to Cynthia Woods, editor, who has assisted Miss Groves in organizing and conducting the work thus far.

Circulation manager Mary Jo Brown reports one of the largest coverages in recent years for the annual. Through an effective advertising campaign, Miss Brown has received requests for more than 600 copies. Usually, the circulation is around 500 or 550.

Snap shot editor Robert Gard has sent several pages of candid shots to the engraver already. The constant clicking of shutters around school grounds and at school events promises that there will be plenty of interesting and unusual photos recorded in the coming "Crimson J."

The vocal organizations at J.H.S., the Treble Clef, Boys' Glee Club, and the combined choir, have abruptly dropped popular songs from their practices now that the '38 edition of the Minstrel show is over, and are digging deep into Christmas melodies and carols.

The Impressive Christmas Vesper program which was so well received last festive season will be held again this year. Among other classics, the choir is earnestly tackling the difficult "Hallelujah Chorus" from the "Messiah" by Handel.

The program is usually presented during the last school day before Christmas vacation. Several members of the vocal clubs are preparing solos and duets to be presented during the Vesper.

Council Votes To Accept Tentative Water, Sewer Plan With S. Jacksonville

that the city could allow persons who have tillable land in the property to be taken to plant any crops that could be harvested before Sept. 1, 1939 without danger of suffering damages. He explained that very little tillable land is being taken, and that the stipulation provides that the city may have access to the land for clearing purposes before that time. Pasture land may be used until July 15, when it is expected that water will begin backing up behind the land in sufficient quantities to make these lands unusable for pasture.

Paul F. Haase, resident engineer for Warren and Van Praag, in charge of the waterworks project, estimated that the city could open the drain for a total cost of about $150. He estimated that there was seven or eight months work to be done before the project is completed.

To Move Sheds

Proceedings to force people along Hockenhill street, who have built sheds on the city's right of way, were ordered begun after Alderman John Early pointed out that the street is supposed to be 50 feet wide, according to the plan of the subdivision, whereas in reality it is about 15 feet. Residents along one side of the street have constructed sheds from four to eight feet on the city's property, he said, and the Monroe Electric company has erected one of the poles to carry the municipal light plant energy in the center of what is supposed to be the street.

Mayor H. H. Vasconcellos, who presided over the meeting, instructed the city engineer to make the proper investigations and then establish a property line. As soon as this is done, the city attorney is to be given the names of those residents who have buildings on city property, and notices will be issued for them to move their buildings. Alderman Early said that Hockenhill, from Cox street east, is the proper width but that the remainder of the street has been considerably narrowed. One property owner made the complaint, the first ward alderman said, when he was unable to get his car into his garage without tearing down a neighbor's fence.

Continuing the discussion of difficulties arising out of the construction of the municipal light plant lines, Mayor Vasconcellos said that in view of the size of the project, a number of difficulties were to be anticipated and should be ironed out. There was a discussion about a leak in a water pipe in the 800 block on South Clay avenue, but no action was taken other than to hear a report of the city engineer that a driveway torn up there would be replaced in as near like the condition it was found as possible.

More Land Space

The council also instructed the public improvements committee, of which Walter Huff is chairman, to proceed with making a deal for additional land for north side city dump. Alderman Huff reported that a deal had been worked out with an adjoining land owner to trade about four acres of ground and City Attorney Cleary was instructed to prepare the necessary papers.

Alderman Ernest Hoagland, chairman of the health committee, reported that a weekly health bulletin was now being prepared in order to keep the city better informed as to its condition. City Clerk John R. Phillips read a treasurer's report showing a balance of $21,660.08 in the general fund, but there was no other discussion of the city's financial status in view of the absence of the finance chairman, E. R. Franklin, who was said to be out of the city.

Alderman Early also reported that there was an objectionable odor coming from the catch basin at the corner of North West street and Lafayette avenue, and Mayor Vasconcellos instructed the city engineer to make an investigation to determine the cause. The city engineer said that the catch basin there had not worked perfectly for some time.

Alderman Ted Chumley said that no concrete plans had been made as yet to enlarge the collection division of the water department to include the collection division of the municipal light plant, but that some changes to the present building were anticipated.

The district board of the Federated Women's club will hold its December meeting on Wednesday, December 18th at the Dunlap hotel, at 10 o'clock. During the morning session reports will be given by the chairmen and club representatives. The report of the state board meeting will be given by the district president, Mrs. Roy Davenport.

Luncheon will be served at noon, followed by a brief session.

Oliver Coultas Shot J. Burmeister In Self Defense, Jury Finds

The elder Coultas put his gun in its case and accompanied him. Charles Burmeister, recalled to the witness stand, said he saw Coultas remove the gun from its case when he returned in the afternoon.

Milton Burdell, Rural Route 6, said about 1 1/2 years ago he was hunting with his brother on the farm of Edgar Shibe, his father-in-law, when Joseph Burmeister came over and threatened to blow his brains out and he had to box pretty hard to keep him from doing it.

Had Seen Man Angry

Burdell said the elderly farmer at that time had a shotgun with the hammer pulled back, but that he was talking out of shooting them. "I have known Joe with his gun in his hands, cussing and going across the pasture where someone was hunting," several times, Burdell said.

The witness was asked about any other traits or peculiarities. Burmeister, who lived alone, may have possessed Burdell said the aged man didn't believe that a radio could be tuned from station to station, but believed "everything came out of the box."

Burdell said he had heard of other instances in which the farmer had made threats against hunters or trespassers. "He had an idea that it was his game," the witness said, even when the game left his property and went on across on other farms."

Theodore Burdell, brother of Milton, told substantially the same story about Burmeister threatening them with a gun a number of years ago. Sheriff Williamson, examining Burmeister's rifle, said the shot marks on the stock would indicate that it was being held almost horizontally.

Reads Coultas' Testimony

Coroner Sample read the testimony of Oliver Coultas, who said he saw Burmeister shooting at his son when he went to join him for an afternoon hunt. Fire Marshal Coultas was struck by a bullet and fell, after which Burmeister turned the weapon on Oliver Coultas, who fired his shotgun in self defense. "I had to do it," Coultas said in his statement.

Funeral services for Burmeister will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Gillham Funeral Home, Rev. William J. Boston officiating. Interment will be made in Arcadia cemetery.

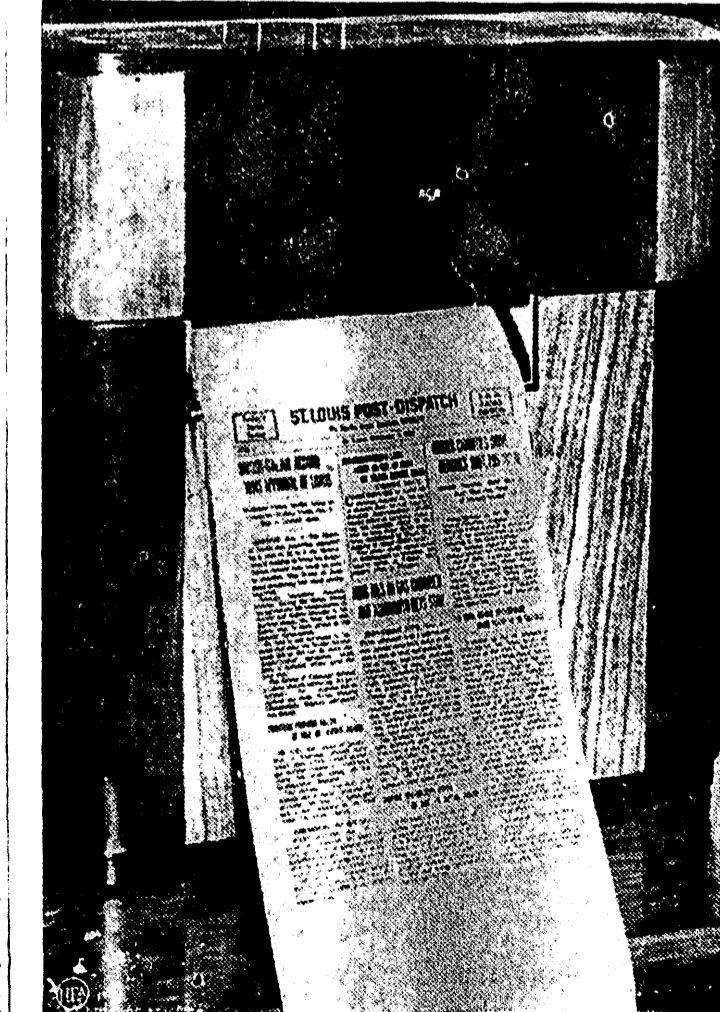

The decedent was born Dec. 22, 1865, a son of Charles and Minnie Butcher Burmeister, and had always been a Morgan county resident. He was united in marriage in 1892 with Miss Lizzie Pettiback, who preceded him in death many years ago.

Surviving are four brothers, John, Charles and George Burmeister, of Morgan county, and Albert, of Chicago; one sister, Mrs. Julia Snyder, Watsonville, Pa. There are a number of other relatives.

Attendant at Gas Station is Robbery Victim Here Monday

Forrest Crouse Hands Money To Pair Who Stop For Gasoline

Two men who asked for gasoline about 9:45 o'clock last night, a few seconds later asked for money, when they stopped at the Marcus Smith filling station at 326 East Morton avenue. The pair left the station with the gasoline and $22.67, which Forrest Crouse, attendant, turned over to them, at the point of a gun.

Crouse told local police that the pair drove up to his station last night and asked for gasoline. They told him to fill the gasoline tank, which he did to overflowing, although the two motorists told him the gauge did not show the tank was full when it overflowed.

After the gasoline had been placed in the car and while Crouse was near the car, a man in the rear seat of the vehicle, which he was servicing, told him to hand over the proceeds of the day. Crouse reached into his pocket and handed the other man, who was standing nearby, $22.67. No demand was made on the cash register of the station.

Crouse noted the license number on the automobile and notified local police. The Jacksonville officers called Bloomington, where the owner of the plates resides, and found that they had been stolen December 5, of this year. A state radio broadcast was sent out concerning the stickup.

Crouse told the officers the car left the station in an eastward direction and then turned north on Clay avenue. He also said the man who got out of the car after requesting gasoline went into the station, but no attempt was made to rob the cash register.

The men were traveling in a green Chevrolet of late model.

Hear Testimony Of Tract N Values In Condemnation Suit

Witnesses Discuss 2 Tracts
In Circuit Court Here
Monday

Testimony as to the value of Tract N, 40 acres of the 160 acre Frank Hembrugh farm, was heard in circuit court here Monday afternoon in the condemnation proceedings brought by the city against landowners of the Big Sandy creek area, to obtain a site for a new reservoir. The hearing as to Tract N values followed testimony concerning Tract M, forty acres owned by T. M. Trotter at the morning session of court.

Tract N, forty acres of the Frank Hembrugh estate, was given a fair cash value in testimony for the city of $1,975. Witnesses testified that the creek channel runs through the Hembrugh tract, and that it consists of about 12 acres of crop land and 28 acres of pasture. The defense brought out a report that there is a never-failing spring on the tract, which witnesses contended would not change the value fixed on the land.

Mr. Hembrugh was the first witness to take the stand for the defense at the afternoon session of court. He said he valued the farm at $140 an acre and that if the 40 acres is taken from the 160 acres the remainder of the real estate will depreciate $30 an acre.

Maurice Walsh placed a value of $140 an acre on the entire farm with a depreciation of $20 an acre. Clarence York placed a value of $150 an acre on all of the farm and valued the 40 acres at $75 an acre. The remaining acres would depreciate $20 an acre when the forty is taken, he said.

A value of $145 an acre was placed on the entire farm by John Moxon, with $100 an acre on the forty sought by the city and a depreciation of $25 an acre. Orville Becker placed a valuation of $140 an acre on all of the acreage and depreciation of $20 an acre.

S. T. Erison placed a valuation of $125 on the entire farm, $100 an acre on the desired forty and a depreciation of $25 an acre on remaining land. John W. Oxley set a value of $150 an acre on all of the farm and said the 120 acres would depreciate $30 an acre. Earl Mortimer valued the farm at $130 an acre and at $120 after the forty is taken for the lake.

W. Barr Brown and George DeWeese were placed on the stand by city attorneys, Orville Foreman and Edward Cleary just before the afternoon adjournment to testify as to the values of the farm land. Mr. Brown placed a value of $13,500 on the 120 acres of the Hembrugh farm, and said the taking of the forty acres for the lake would not change its value.

Mr. DeWeese placed a value of $13,000 on the 120 acres, and said after the forty is taken this value would be increased to $13,600. He based his opinion on the enhancement of value on the improvements being on a smaller area of land.

Bellatti & Arnold are attorneys for Mr. Hembrugh.

Tract M is the 40-acre T. M. Trotter farm and is an improved and complete farm. The city witnesses placed on it a fair cash market value of $5,000 or $125 an acre. Witnesses for the defense assessed a valuation double that of the plaintiff's or $250 an acre.

Approves Stipulation
The council also approved a stipulation which the special counsel will present to the Morgan county circuit court as evidence in the condemnation suits now in progress there to acquire land for a new water storage reservoir. The stipulation provides that the city will open all drainage tiles on farm lands taken above the water line of the lake, when the property owners request the city to do so.

City Attorney Edward Cleary, who is assisting special counsel O. N. Foreman in the trial of the case, explained that by adopting this particular stipulation the city placed itself in a more favorable position to avoid awarding damages for drain tile outlets to which would be covered when the water backs up behind the new dam.

In view of the fact that the dam will take from seven to eight months to complete the city attorney said (Continued on Page Eight)

Annual Meeting Of Morgan Tuberculosis Association Is Held

More than two hundred persons attended the annual banquet meeting of the Morgan County Tuberculosis Association in the Christian church last night. Dr. Robinson Bosworth, president of the Illinois State Tuberculosis Association, and Dr. A. C. Baxter, former Morgan county resident now acting director of the Illinois State Board of Health, were the main speakers for the program which followed the banquet.

Dr. H. C. Wolman, president of the Morgan County Tuberculosis and Public Health League, presided at the meeting, following the invocation given by Rev. Morgan Williams. Dr. Wolman commented on the various groups "showing interest in the one cause for which this organization stands" by their presence at the meeting. The president also noted the untiring effort given by Mrs. A. L. Adams in arranging for the annual meetings.

In the first feature of the instructive program, Dr. Bosworth said, "Illinois has enjoyed rather consistent reduction in deaths from tuberculosis in the past few years. The number of deaths has increased in some states. However, tuberculosis is still an exceedingly serious disease."

"This disease, which attacks people in the early prime of their life, still heads the list of causes of death. It begins in the late teen ages and early twenties, especially in the high school groups."

The speaker noted that, although nearly all cases could be cured if properly cared for during the early stages, the difficulty lies in detecting the cases for there are no early symptoms of the disease. This has partly been surmounted in many localities by the educational institutions giving routine "skin test" and "X-ray" examinations for the disease. He stated that "young people should be examined by X-ray each year until the age of 28 is reached."

Should Extend Help
Dr. Bosworth stated that "I think the time has come after 32 years history of the Morgan county institution to extend its help to others outside of this community." The speaker also noted the great need for financial backing from the state government.

Following the address, Donald Litter sang "From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters," "I Love Thee," and "Morning." He was accompanied by Mrs. Lois Eckman. After a report by the executive secretary of the state association, the local secretary of the local association, Mrs. Don Overby, reported the net sales thus far. The group has collected approximately five hundred dollars toward the $1,500 local quota.

Dr. A. E. Baxter, former local resident, spoke to the gathering, noting the rapid progress made in the past generation toward the prevention of diseases.

Dr. Baxter said: "Perhaps it will not be taken as a matter of indecent personal exposure for me to say that I first saw the light of day in Morgan county. It is interesting to observe that on the day when I was born Louis Pasteur still had fifteen years of his rich and fruitful life to live."

Cause of Tuberculosis
"On the day when I was born here in Morgan County, Robert Koch was just beginning to toy with the idea that a transmissible germ of some kind might be the cause of tuberculosis in man."

"In the year when I was born, Edward Trudeau was more interested in shooting rabbits than in propounding the 'rest cure' for tuberculosis. He was a moving spirit in organizing in that year a gun club at Saranac Lake. So far as tuberculosis was concerned, Trudeau had gone to the Adirondack region to await what he believed would be the swift and inevitable outcome of an infection. Surprisingly enough to himself and to others familiar with his condition, he had begun to improve in health."

"In the year when I was born the State Board of Health of Illinois was only three years old and had not progressed much further in the work which it was destined to perform than a child of the same age. The accident of vaccination against smallpox was about the only available preventive procedure of demonstrated value at that time."

"It is of outstanding significance to observe, moreover, that the people of America have taken greater advantage of preventive medicine than any other people anywhere. As to tuberculosis, only Denmark among European nations has a lower death rate than does the United States."

"For this fortunate and gratifying state of affairs we are indebted to the courageous and intelligent pioneer spirit of our people which has been admirably demonstrated by the citizens of Morgan county. The work and achievements here in Morgan county are typical of that which has been accomplished generally throughout the United States. This, I take it, is an attribute of our form of government in this country."

Dr. Mary Newman, secretary of the group, read the minutes of the previous meeting in 1936, during which a silver loving cup was presented to Dr. Josephine Milligan, founder of the local organization. It was followed by the treasurer's report, made by Ralph Dunlap.

Nominations Report
Dr. Wolman then called on Mrs. A. L. Adams for the report of the committee on nominations. The list of directors for the coming year was approved by the organization membership. Mrs. Adams presented prizes to the large delegations present from the surrounding communities, first being given to the Alexander group, and second prizes to delegations from Murrayville and Sinclair.
